

CHRIS NAUGLE

AMERICA'S #1 MONEY MENTOR

Chris Naugle would love to travel to be your next Keynote speaker at your local Real Estate Investor Meetup!

Over the last 20 years Chris has worn a wide variety of business hats. From a former pro snowboarder, owning several snowboard/skateboard shops. To being a top financial advisor for 16 years. He's invested in real estate with his wife Lorissa doing flips, wholesales, and a lot of private lending. They even had a pilot on HGTV in 2018 called 'Risky Builders.'

Aside from everything I've just told you about Chris - the main hat he wears is MONEY MENTOR, because what is taught in schools about money is absolute trash.

And oftentimes the biggest barrier of entry with real estate investing IS the money.

Chris' choice method for funding his own real estate flips, as well as the properties that he lends to other real estate investors comes from HIS OWN BANK.

What do I mean by HIS OWN BANK? Well we refer to it as Privatized Banking or "BYOB" - Be Your Own Bank!

And this is what Chris would love to share with your audience as the absolute BEST BANKERS are oftentimes REAL ESTATE INVESTORS because they understand money movement, assets, and R.O.I!

We leverage Whole Life Insurance policies specially designed and engineered for banking purposes, commonly referred to as the "Infinite Banking Concept".

You open a policy, fund the policy, and take a policy loan for your real estate investing needs. Whether funding rehabs, buying materials, paying contractors, and so on- the money acts as, and is- cash.

A "policy" and a policy "loan", what does that mean? Chris is passionate to teach you all about them and how they best serve real estate investors.

Many of you may have a business, which has cash flow needs each and every month. But what if those cash flow problems could be solved with the help of your banking policy?

Businesses can often write off the interest charge to a policy loan as a deduction come tax time. Of course, it's insured by your body, so you own the banking policy. So, the money that goes back into the policy will grow for you and give you more wealth. That means the charge to the business is a gain for you, the owner of the business and the policy. It's a win-win.
